the course of the military operations which have begun between Russia and Japan the neutrality of China and in all practical ways her administration entity shall be respected by both parties, and that the area of hostilities shall be localized and limited as much as possible, so that undue excitement and disturbance of the Chinese people may be prevented, and the least possible loss to the commerce and peaceful intercourse of the world may be occasioned.

"At the same time this government informed all the powers signatory of the protocol at Pekin of its action and requested similar action on their part."

No answers to the above note in addition to those received up to yesterday have been received at the Sinte Departmat. England wants a more definite statement of the purpose and scope of the note. Secretary Hay is disinclined to yield to this wish. He thinks that, it would be impossible to got the powers together if an attempt is made to exactly define the purpose of concurrent action. So, as to Manchuria, the question is left open purposely as to whether or not Chinaee administration is or is not in force in that war-swept territory. That is why the term "administrative entity", was used in Secretary Hay's note. It is a question of fact, to be determined upon perhaps inter, whether or not China does possess "administrative entity" in Manchuria.

It is said that there will be no attempt made on our part to secure through force of arms the purposes stated in the note; in other words, the United States is not to be dragged into hostilities in the East.

race ideals, and if one must choose between the white and the yellow, Germany stands by the white.

The government here is conscious that Russia has not acted wisely, and that Japan has sufficient reasons for making war. Germany recognizes also that other powers have cause for complaint in that Russia did not keep her promise to evacuate Manchuria, and among these powers is Germany, which now holds opinions identical with those of the United States concerning the "open door." But beyond these considerations there are according to a very high German official, greater considerations of statesmaship which prompt Germany to withhold its sympathy from Japan and to hope that Russia will not be vanquished. Japanese victory is believed by this official to mean that Japanese influence would be supreme in China, and that the cry would so up "Asia for the Asiatics." Mrs. R. C. Young, of 312 Indiana Street, Lawrence, Kansas, recently sont for a copy of the book After carefully examining it and testing the methods of personal influence on her friends and associates, she makes the following statement in a letter to a friend: "The instructions given by the Columbia Scientific Academy have been worth to me more than all the previous readings of my life: I wish every woman in this countyr could read their grand book."

Fred Perkins, of South Haven, Mich., says: "In have been in great demand since I read the work of the Columbia Scientific Academy, People are amazed and mystified at the things I do, I believe I could make $25 per day reading character alone if I were to charge for my services. If any one would have told me I would receive so much wonderful information I would have thought him cra

formation I would have thought him crazy."

Mrs. M. Effic Watson, of Martinsville, Ind., says: "Could I have had access to such information in past years I could have avoided many misfortunes. The work of the Columbia Scie.tiffic Academy shall be my guarding star the remaining days of my life."

If you will send your name and address to the Columbia scientific Academy, Dept. 118C, 1911 Broadway, New York City, the above book will be sent to you absolutely free, postage prepaid. On account of the great expense involved in preparing this book the Columbia Scientific Academy requests that only people who are especially interested write for free copy—only those who really desire to achieve greater success and better their condition in life.—Adv.
